

Cookies Policy

In compliance with the duty of information set out in section 2 of article 22 of Law 34/2002, of 11 July, on Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce, the purpose of this cookies policy is to inform you clearly and precisely about the cookies used on the website of ESG Financial and Investment Services S.L. (hereinafter "ESG FIS").

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small file that websites send to your browser and download to your computer. Cookies allow the website to store and retrieve information about your visit, such as your preferred language and other options, in order to improve the services offered and contribute to a better browsing experience for the user.

Types of cookies

Depending on who manages the domain from which the cookies are sent and the data is processed, a distinction will be made between first-party cookies and third-party cookies.

Cookies can also be classified according to the length of time they remain stored in the user's browser, distinguishing between session cookies or persistent cookies.

Finally, depending on the purpose for which the information collected is processed, cookies can be classified into the following categories:

Technical cookies: they allow the user to navigate a website and use some of the services offered by it (such as, for example, those used to remember the elements of a shopping cart).

Personalisation cookies: they allow the user to access the website with certain characteristics, such as language.

Security cookies: they are used to prevent or hinder attacks against the website.

Add-on cookies for sharing social content: so-called plug-ins, which allow content to be shared on social networks.

Analysis cookies: allow the controller to track user behaviour.

Advertising cookies: allow you to manage the advertising spaces of the website.

Behavioural advertising cookies: like the previous ones, they are used to manage the advertising spaces of the website based on the information collected on the user's behaviour and habits, adapting the advertising to the user's profile.

Geolocation cookies: used to find out the country where the user is located.

Authorisation for the use of cookies

In accordance with the cookie notice that appears on the website, the user can consent expressly the use of cookies that require consent; however, the use of technical or necessary cookies does not require consent. Notwithstanding all this, the user can modify the configuration of their browser to reject the use of cookies.

How to change your cookie settings

You can restrict, block or delete cookies from ESG FIS or any other website using your browser. In each browser the operation is different, you can find how to do it in the help menu of your browser where the procedure for its removal is established. For more information:
